

My name is Peter Gatluak Francis, a student at Kenya Methodist University in Meru, Kenya. I am pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Clinical Medicine and Community Health. I am in year 1 semester 2 in the year 2026. The total study of years are 4 and I am expected to graduate in the year 2029. This is what I have been upto;

In the past two semesters, I have been determined to work harder after repeating the academic year. I have approached this second chance with renewed focus to fully make most of your support. I have been able to attend all laboratory practicals on all the units that require them. It has been a busy second semester where the lecturers have even taken extra time to continue teaching and repeating certain units. The coming academic semester would even be more demanding since we will be preparing for our end of year examinations. I am determined to put more effort into my studies to be able to pass the academic year.

The campus has had numerous events but I have been able to attend one function. A forum for all the international students of the school where we go to interact and share ideas and other cultures and opinions. We had the vice chancellor gracing the event and assured us of more competent study materials to help us achieve our career goals.

I joined the guidance and counselling programme. This was an initiative from the school for us students who were asked to retake the academic year. It has helped me stay strong mentally to be able to focus on my studies and also take good care of myself. I have had no other challenge so far throughout the two semesters. I continually live to appreciate your unwavering support and encouragement as I look to achieving my academic goals.
